

Featured —— Story

Mae, Hotspur rock CAC's Smoke-Free SU concert pg. 7 Softball soars over the Eagles pg. 10

Index

THEFILYER

Volume 36 Issue 20

Salisbury University's Student Voice

April 7, 2009

Sarah Wright photo

A fourth SafeRide van could help the organization deal with the large amount of students who use the service

each weekend. With another van, more students could be picked up and SafeRide could reach students faster. What's the holdup on a fourth SafeRide van?

By Jonathan Moynihan
Staff Writer

Jon League, a driver for SafeRide, is pulled over by Salisbury Police while on Onley Road headed towards the New Zoo. The officer approaches the van full of about 20 students on the passenger side. The van reeks of alcohol, and the driver and students alike are nervous they're about to be in serious trouble.

But the officer isn't pulling over the long, off-white Salisbury van because of a traffic law violation. It's because the SafeRide phone lines have been turned off.

"Every weekend our office is flooded with phone calls and pick up requests. Our phone never stops ringing after 10 o'clock. The need is simply too great sometimes," said Executive Vice President of SafeRide Sam Klenkel. "We've thought about implementing a second [phone] line, but that's just a piece of the answer."

The student run organization received the award for Outstanding Registered Student Organization last year, and with its ever-growing popularity, its need for increased effectiveness has never been greater. But sadly, these needs have not been met, specifically their need of a fourth van.

"We have been told that we were

State treasurer visits, discusses University growth

Sarah Lake pho

State Treasurer Nancy Kopp, President Janet Dudley-Eshbach and Deputy Treasurer for External Affairs Howard Freedlander met Tuesday.

By Vanessa Junkin Staff Writer

Things have been changing at SU—not just physically, but also in the way the University has been interacting with the community.

Maryland State Treasurer Nancy Kopp has realized this.

At a lunch meeting with some of SU's executive, academic and student leaders, Kopp talked about some of these changes, then took a tour and saw some of the physical changes like the TETC.

"I see the University not only as a great educational institution but a driver of economic development for the state, so that's why I like to go and get a feeling for how things are going and what the major issues are, what people are talking about, what you're concerned about," Kopp said.

She was interested in hearing about SU's good town-gown rela-

SEE Treasurer Pg. 2

JDL race held in memory of former student

By Laura Bounds
Staff Writer

In memory of Jerry Daniel Landsman, Salisbury University's SafeRide sponsored its seventh annual JDL Memorial 5K SafeRun Saturday, April 4. Honoring "Danny," a former SU student, supporters of all ages lined up in front of Maggs Gym at 10 a.m. to run the 3.1 miles, equivalent to two laps around campus.

SafeRide and the Fishing Club founded the event after Danny's passing in memory of him and his contribution to campus. The initial idea for a run came from Danny and his natural love of athletics and the outdoors.

Telecia Taylor photo

Runners prepare to begin the race at SafeRide's seventh annual JDL Memorial 5k SafeRun. The race is held in memory of Danny Landsman.

"Danny always wanted to do a run as a fundraiser for SafeRide. He started the process and set up but passed away before the end of January so the SafeRide administration decided to keep it going and do it every year in memory of him," said Jerry Landsman, Danny's father. "It started as a fundraiser but converted to a memorial."

Every year the JDL Run brings together various members of the together various members of the Salisbury community as well as Danny's family members and friends. Due to the hard work and upbeat atmosphere created by the SafeRide staff, this year's race had a superior turnout.

"We had around 200 people come last year and from registration this year we've seen at least

SEE Run Pg. 2

Seminar prepares students for law school

By Gwen Ferrand Staff Writer

This past Tuesday, Salisbury University hosted a seminar for students hoping to continue on to law school after completing their undergraduate studies. Contrary to popular belief that one has to be a political science major to be "pre-law," many students from other majors, from biology to communication arts, can apply to law school; this is one of the important points that Dr. Roberta Adams, Salisbury's pre-law advisor, stressed.

"Applying is a complicated process, and some students just aren't prepared," Adams said.

It is a time consuming process, with many of the steps being not necessarily obvious. With the fall being the best time to apply, Adams advises getting organized and informed in the spring so as not to fall behind. "By the time [students] start [applying], if they do not have an idea of what to do it is very daunting," Adams warned.

Since law schools are looking for diversity and not just the average political science major, Adams advised students to "do what is right for you," and not what students think they need to do to be accepted.

"Some students have said there were certain courses they had taken that were helpful, but really it is a very individual thing," stated Adams when asked if there were specific routes students had taken at SU that were beneficial to them.

"Most students do best in what they like, and the temptation is to choose classes that are strategic, but that's the long way to go," she

SEE Science Pg. 2

Green Series: TETC uses energy efficient technology

By Stacie Manger Staff Writer

When looking at the TETC from the outside and while roaming the halls on the way to class, one sometimes asks the question: "How can this huge, multimillion dollar building be green?"

How expensive is it energy wise? Why are there so many lights on at night when all of the other buildings are mostly dark? In a time where "going green" is the common mantra of companies, some wonder how green our SU buildings are.

Surprisingly, despite its size, the TETC is quite energy efficient.

"We have not occupied TETC for a full year, therefore some estimates will have to be done. Some months are higher and some are lower, but overall, on average, the utility costs (electric, gas, oil and water) are almost $40,000 per month," said Tim Jones of the Energy Management Office. "I would expect that over time, as we learn the building systems and develop better control strategies for the mechanical systems we will see a drop in utility consumption of up to five percent."

As for the persistent lights in the building, Jones said that occupancy of the TETC goes later into the night because of the computer labs and studios. Some of the lights are related to student activity, he said. Jones said there is safety and security lighting that is left on and the housekeeping staff works into the morning cleaning the TETC.

Motion sensors control a large amount of the lighting, Jones commented. The use of these sensors is considered a contribution to the "green" modification lifestyle.

Computer servers cost a lot of money, energy-wise, to run. But SU improved the infrastructure and made it more energy efficient

"We have installed a print queue system in the computer labs which saves paper," said Chief Information Officer Jerry Waldron. "In the server area, we have moved

SEE Green Pg. 2

Heather Herb photo

Contrary to what some may think, the multimillion dollar TETC is an energy efficient, "green" building, despite its large size and the high amount of technology.

This past Friday night, the Mon-

for Brooke Mulford, 4, who was di-key Barrel hosted a music benefit bustle of the Barrel, as it is commonly known to students, were members of the community who came by to show their support for mostly filtered out by 10 p.m., the students who filled the Barrel were in a boisterous mood, enjoying the atmosphere and live music. Playing that night were local bands Pugsly

Jon Beauchamp Experience, Press-

While the money has not been that it was a good night for the Mulford family. With half of the money from the 50/50 raffle and the cover charge going directly to counted vet, early estimates indicate

(with SU faculty members), The ing Strings and DJ Blade.

Brooke. While the older crowd

Spanish Club Fundraiser Come out and support SU's Spanish Club! The Uno's in Fruitland will donate up to 20 percent of your dine in or carry out check to the Spanish Club between 11 a.m. and 11 p.m. on Friday, April 24, and Wednesday, April 29.

Spring into Reading at Blackwell Library

Tired of reading textbooks? Come to the annual Fiction Book Sale at Blackwell Library and Spring into Reading by purchasing a novel for summer reading! The Book Sale will be held in conjunction with National Library Week, and will run from Monday, April 13 through Monday, April 19. The sale, which will be held on the first floor of the library next to the circulation desk, will be fiction only. All novels will be on sale for 50¢ each.

Treasurer Continued from Pg. 1

President Janet Dudley-Eshbach said the University has worked hard to make the town-gown relationship successful during her nine years here so far. She noted that SU and the city are now working together in a variety of ways. In addition, Dudley-Eshbach said that in 2003, she began a towngown council and she also mentioned students have contributed to the effort with days like The Big

"Involving the town, communicating with our neighbors is critically important, and [Kopp] was very complimentary of the fact that we do that," said Rosemary Thomas, Vice President of University Advancement and Executive Director of the Salisbury University Foundation.

Kopp also asked the three students in attendance about reasons for choosing Salisbury and talked to them about their experience here as well as their futures.

"She was just very interested in what the students have been through," said Julius Jones, who works in governmental relations. SU is a "growth institution" with expected long-term enrollment growth, and upcoming physical changes were discussed during Kopp's visit. The parking garage, a Perdue School building and a residence hall complex are the planned Board of Public Works projects.

Dudley-Eshbach said in the future, SU will see a new library, a fine and performing arts center and a new field house.

The new developments aren't just about University growth, Vice President of Student Affairs Ellen Neufeldt said, but are "meeting the demands of our students today."

She appreciated that Kopp was able to visit despite her busy schedule. Kopp is also on the state's Board of Public Works and previously spent 27 years as a Maryland delegate. "I think we're so fortunate that the state treasurer took the time to come, because to learn and understand the culture and heartbeat of Salisbury University, I think makes all the difference in the world as we work together in the future," Neufeldt said.

Briefly SU gets ready for growth Stated with purchase of buildings

News from the Press Release Office

SU Maintenance Facilities to the building. Relocate in Noland Building

The Noland Corporation is relocating and so are Salisbury University's maintenance facili-

The plumbing supply company recently advertised for sale its South Division Street property, which borders the University. Noland may move to the Route 13 north business corridor, SU was told. The Salisbury gotiating for the property's purchase as part of SU's strategic expansion of its campus.

Noland announced they have finalized an agreement which will allow the Foundation to take possession in June.

The University will lease the 3.45-acre property and its 36,392-square-foot building from the Foundation once this occurs. Eventually SU's maintenance facilities will move into

The University has been desig- gic development, SU has pur-

nated a growth institution by the chased the Paper People University System of Maryland and the campus has expanded to across from the University parkaccommodate growth in size and ing garage currently under con-are under construction or in planning: SU's first parking garage is under construction at the corner of Bateman and Wayne streets. It will have parking for some 850 vehicles and is University Foundation began ne- scheduled to open in September. fice and other service space as

This fall construction is ex-

Currently, three major projects

pected to begin on a new home for the Franklin P. Perdue This week the Foundation and School of Business and a new student residence complex, with retail space, at the current site of the Allenwood Shopping Center. These two projects are expected to open in fall 2011.

> Telecommunications, Event Services Moving to Paper Peo

As part of the campus' stratestruction. The University is expected to take possession May 1 of the .53-acre property and its 14,400-

Building on Bateman Street, square-foot building. It will house the University's Telecommunications Office and operations, Event Services Ofneeded during upcoming campus construction.

When the SU Foundation learned the property had been listed for sale, it began negotiations on behalf of the campus. The Maryland Board of Public Works ultimately approved purchase of the property by the University

For more information, visit the SU Web site at www.salisbury.edu or call 410-543-6030.

Telecia Taylor photo

Kevin Puckett, Charles Butcher and Jon Moynihan show off the shirts that got people talking about the "I Agree With Charles" campaign.

Cru agrees with Charles

By Samantha Fisher

Salisbury University's Campus Crusade for Christ (Cru) held its 'I Agree With Charles" campaign on April 1, 2009, in the Nanticoke room of the Guerrerri Center. Those in attendance included different faiths and denominations, so much so that the audience outgrew the seating, and some were forced to stand in the back.

Roughly 250 people attended. There stood Charles Butcher, the student whose name was plastered all over Salisbury's campus. The international business major gave his testimony on his conversion from Atheism to Christianity. In his testimony, he spoke of his 'strong Atheist" background because of how he was raised by his father. Throughout his life he would get into arguments with dif- were in attendance which was referent people over what he be-He then went to speak of how he went into a relationship with a Christian woman, and eventually went to church "to impress her." This was his first Christian influence that he had until he ran, literally, into a friend who invited him to Cru. After this, he went to a Bible study called G.I.G (Guys/Girls Investigating God). Despite all of this, he continued arguing with people and especially

she broke up with him. The break-up ultimately led to his investigation of Christianity, Butcher said. He could not fathom or grasp what would lead someone to break up over something like faith, he said. After various readings and conversations with others, he converted to Christianity on December 12,

One of the reasons that he encouraged the conversion was that "it doesn't matter where you've been, God will love you." He also said that "if you believe, it's like God stabs you in your heart with a smiley face, like a tattoo."

The campaign sparked interest across campus and many other student clubs got involved.

"A lot of non-Cru members ally great," said Cru member Addie Kauzlarich. "It also brought out a lot of other campus ministeries like FCA [Federation of Christian Athletes] and Wesley Foundation," she added. Whichever view one chooses is entirely up to them, but the fact remains that the "I Agree With Charles" campaign was a success when it came to inspiring the campus to discuss their beliefs.

Saferide Continued from Pg. 1

getting another van for about a year now. Every semester we plan on hiring more employees based on the guarantee we received about of people call. It's just a lot of it, but we haven't gotten it," Klenkel said.

Originally proposed by the Student Safety Committee, a fourth van would allow SafeRide to reach a higher number of students, as well as increasing their response time to those who call in for pickups. However, due to their inability to satisfy all the pick-up requests, the overwhelming demand forces operations to shut

The police use SafeRide, too. When officers break up parties, they phone in the location of the newly abandoned students to SafeRide. These calls are then relayed to the drivers where they become the top priority, League said. "When parties get busted, a lot calls from one location," League

But when phone lines shut down, police are forced to pull over SafeRide vans in order to relay the location of their new pick-up destination, even further delaying already phoned-in requests. A fourth van would help eliminate slow response times in these extreme cases, Klenkel said.

"There's lots of evidence that they could really use a fourth van," said SafeRide advisor Heather Holmes. "I think it just needs to be followed through on, and we get something in place for the rest of

Law

Continued from Pg. 1

As far as skills go, Adams notes that sharpening writing and reasoning skills are very important in being successful in the process.

Salisbury alum David Mills, who continued on to the University of Maryland's law program, praises the political science department for preparing him ade-

"It's a surprisingly strong program, which people probably would not expect coming from such a small school," Mills said. Conversely, current student Allan White, who is majoring in history, plans to continue to law school after SU and stated, "I think not being in political science, which is what they would expect, gives me an edge over others competing to be accepted." Salisbury has kept records for the past six or seven years on the success of alumni who are accepted into law school after attending SU, and the numbers are increasing. In years past, not as many students were applying to law school, Adams said, but now more are becoming better prepared. As for where the students choose to go for law school, local schools such as University of Maryland and the University of Maryland Baltimore County tend to be more popular, and institutions like Penn State are gaining interest.

Green Continued from Pg. 1

heavily toward virtualization. We can reduce the number of servers in the data center by using software, which enables us to create multiple server environments on one actual server. This has reduced the number of servers by 30 per-

Currently, SU is perusing a Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) certification for the TETC. According to the Sustainability at SU Web site for the TETC, some floor areas have been covered with renewable and recyclable bamboo instead of tile. Most of the flooring materials are 100 percent recyclable. Around 40 percent of the building's frame is made from recycled materials. High-efficiency plumbing fixtures were installed, and as a result, water usage was reduced by 20 percent. The Web site has even more green facts about the TETC. Despite its intimidating size, the newest building on Salisbury's campus is an excellent example of an energy efficient, green establishment.

Beat

03/23/2009-03/24/2009 3:10 p.m.-

Burglary/Theft A student reported that his cell phone was stolen from within his St. Martin Hall room. The case is under investigation.

Someone stole a power strip extension cord from within Blackwell Li-

03/26/2009 9:10 a.m. Off-Campus Robbery to the area of College Ave. and Smith Street to assist the Salisbury Police Department with responding to an armed robbery. The offender was apprehended and charged by the Salisbury Police Department.

textbook from The Commons building.

03/27/2009-03/28/2009 8-1:30 side of Chester Hall.

03/27/2009-03/29/2009 3-4:15

Malicious Destruction of Property A student reported that someone left unattended in the Choptank bike barn.

03/30/2009 9-11 a.m.

A student reported the theft of her unattended bicycle near Manokin

03/31/2009 2:30-4:30 p.m. Hit and Run Collision A complainant reported that their unattended vehicle was damaged in a hit and run collision while parked

03/31/2009-04/01/2009 10 p.m.-10

04/01/2009 11-11:30 a.m. phone was stolen from Maggs

Gym.

Run Continued from Pg. 1

around 215," said Samantha Klenkel, a SafeRide team leader. "We're really happy with the turnout; we had people out here at 8:45 a.m. People that didn't even know him come out for the run every year, so I think that's awe-

Around $1,000 worth of the race and every participant walked away with a complimentary T-shirt. Winning first place for the men was Student Activities graduate assistant Todd Ostrom, with a time of 17:25. Freshman Bridget Mc-Carthy won first place for the women with a time of 21:12. In addition to participating and being involved in the race every year, the Landsman family also funds a scholarship dedicated for SafeRide employees in honor of Danny's commitment to the organization. Candidates can find the application online and must show their specific contributions to Saferide and how they are qualified to be awarded this scholarship.

"Salisbury's been great to agnosed with stage 4 neuroblastoma, a rare cancer primarily found in children and infants. All proceeds collected at the Monkey Barrel that night were donated to the Brooke Mulford Foundation to assist with medical and travel expenses. Added to the usual hustle and 03/25/3009 4 p.m.

University Police officers responded

03/26/2009 6:45-7:30 p.m. Theft A student reported the theft of a

A student reported that her unattended bicycle was vandalized out-cut his bicycle's rear tire while it was in the Caruthers parking lot.

A student reported that his unattended bicycle was stolen near St. Martin Hall.

A student reported that her cell prizes were given away after We asked 100 SU students: satisfied with your advisor?

us," Landsman said. "SafeRide is a fantastic program. These guys work really hard and are very passionate about what they do. They've passed the age of Danny's contemporaries but are still passionate about the race and him; it's very uplifting."

Benefit for Brooke held at Monkey Barrel Staff Writer

and community members can take pride in the fact that they made a difference Friday night.

"This is why [my wife] Amy and I chose to live here after we graduated from SU. The love and support is unbelievable. Sometimes all this negativity on the news with politics in this town puts a dark cloud over how great the people are on the Delmarva Peninsula or the phrase we have coined during this, 'Smallsbury," said Rob Mulford, Brooke's

And "Smallsbury" is proud to show its support for the Mulford family. Owners of the Market Street Inn and SU alumni, the Mulford family has been active members of the community for many years, and the city has shown its thanks during this troubled time. Those wishing to donate to the Brooke Mulford Foundation can visit their Web site at www.brookemulford.com and click

"The community support is what is making this fight tolerable. It is above and beyond what anyone could have imagined," Rob said.

The band Pugsly, made up of SU faculty members, played at the Monkey Barrel on Friday to benefit Brooke Mulford, 4, who is suffering from neuroblastoma. Other bands also played at the event to help raise money.

Library usability will soon improve

By Jacqueline Miller Staff Writer

Have you ever had trouble navigating the library Web site? Do you spend more time searching the site than actually using it? Now you can finally do something Learning Resources (FLR), the about that. The Blackwell Library participants are video taped to staff wants your input to help make the Web site more userfriendly and to increase its func-

"Every time I use the [library] for help because I can't find what the new one. I'm looking for," said junior Kim

A study evaluating the effective-to use," said creator Michelle Oleson. "We tried to get a good mix [when conducting the study]." Participants are randomly selected from a group of volunteers by both year and major. With the help of Teaching and allow the researchers see exactly what they are doing and how many clicks it takes for them to find what they are looking for. The participants will be asked to Web site I end up asking someone use the old Web site first and then

"I took a lot of classes on usercentered design usability," Oleson said. "So far we are getting good ness of the Web site is currently feedback on the new Web site."

The library wants to make their Web site easier for students to navigate. located on the main page. It is scheduled to be up and running by this summer. by 2013. There is a potential for Another item for students to look forward to is the construction of the new library. Planning be room available elsewhere. "We want to design a Web site use tabs to separate different subis a top priority for the University. tions online at http://www.salisstudents and teachers will be able jects instead of everything being The construction is a very long bury.edu/library/newlibrary.

process for state-funded schools, but it is expected to be completed the library to be relocated, but it all depends on whether there will

Andrew Boyd uses a computer in the Blackwell Library computer lab.

Spirit of Partnership award received for PDS

In addition to the faculty, four SU

students also attended the conference: Staci Stonnell, Jennifer Ruark

and Cassandra Graves of Salisbury,

Staff Writer

Salisbury University representatives recently returned from the National Association of Professional Development Schools' annual conference in Daytona Beach, Fla., with the fourth annual Spirit of Partnership Award. The award is given to an institution of higher education that innovates and serves as a model of how Professional Development

Are you

84%

16%

No

presented to honor contributions for the best interests of children." made to the conference by individual institutions. Dr. Dennis Pataniczek, dean of the. Seidel School of Education and Professional Studies said, "We were honored to receive the Spirit of Partnership award. Credit goes to a large number of people, including all the faculty who were present at the national conference but also to all those faculty and PDS partners who have worked hard to make SU Pro-

Classifieds

Summer Jobs

Telescope Pictures

Ocean City, MD &

Virginia Beach

Work on the Beach

this Summer!

Earn $10,000+,

Great Tan!

Housing Available!

Apply @ ocbeach-

photos.com

Adoption

Loving childless couple wishing to adopt an infant.

Willing to pay legal & medical expenses. Please call Maureen and

Dan at 1-877-489-

2547 or e-mail at maureenanddan@ gmail.com.

and Corinne Ponder of Laurel, Md. They gave three presentations demonstrating the impact of SU's PDS program on pre-kindergarten through 12th grade reading scores at one school.

NAPDS is the only nationwide as- the same evening and displaying over sociation focused exclusively on the schools should be run. The award is fessional Development Schools work work of professional development.

representing 148 institutions and some 203 school systems nation-

SU's PDS is also getting ready to host a regional PDS conference at SU on May 6, which will attract about 300 educators from 7 local school districts as well as SU education faculty. SU student interns will be participating in a gallery walk on 100 research projects that were con#### ducted in the public schools. From the Suggestion Box

This column is based on the comments and concerns of students, faculty, and staff via the suggestion box online at www.salisbury.edu/suggestionbox. The President's Office eeks responses to the issues raised from appropriate campus personnel. Not everything an be fixed, but a reasoned explanation can be offered. Keep those suggestions coming.

From the Suggestion Box

'Why are checks held until 2 p.m.? Banks close at 2 p.m. so this means the money can't be deposited until the following day. It just seems like a way for the state to hold onto our money for another day."

Betty Crocket, Acting Vice President of Administration and Finance, responded:

'The University's paychecks and direct deposit advices are printed at the Central Payroll Bureau in Annapolis and are sent to the University via UPS. If they arrive on time, the University receives contingent payroll paychecks and direct deposit advices between 10:00 a.m. and 11:00 a.m. on Tuesday, the day before they must be distributed. One employee is responsible for sorting and batching, in accordance with departmental instructions and, when possible, employee requests, as many as 1,500 contingent paychecks and direct deposit advices. Given the volume, the University cannot ensure the checks will be available for pick-up prior to Wednesday at 2 p.m. To avoid having to wait until 2 p.m. on Wednesday, we encourage any employee who has a bank account to sign up for direct deposit. This gives the employee the opportunity to have his/her bi-weekly pay deposited into a bank account no later than 9 a.m. on payday. An employee may do this by completing a State of Maryland direct deposit form that is available in the Human Resources and Payroll Offices. The form can also be found on the Human Resource Web site at http://www.salisbury.edu/hr/forms.html. Employees having direct deposit may further request that no direct deposit advice be sent to the University by going to the On-Line Service Center at

https://interactive.marylandtaxes.com/Extranet/cpb/POSC/User/Start.a

Early childhood conference involves African music, dancing

By Lucas Pangburn

It was hot outside the night of April 3, but the real heat was inside. Exotic sounds and foot tapping beats could be heard yards away from the Guerrieri Center. Kwame Ansah-Brew and Kofi Dennis, two performers from West Africa, put on a performance that shook the Wicomico Room. Ansah-Brew and Dennis wore striped, colorful African attire while standing on a stage fuled with African percussion instru-

It was there that they preformed their concert, which was called 'Anansegromma." They wasted no time starting the music and exciting the crowd, which consisted of young children and their parents. They played fun songs from Africa and encouraged the audience to sing along as they banged their various instruments. It wasn't long until the two men had the entire crowd on their feet becoming part of the show. Dennis instructed the audience on how to do simple, fun on a bongo drum. "Slap your hands and then your shoulders!" yelled Dennis. Children and parents alike had huge smiles on their faces as they tried to imitate the African dance. Those too young to follow along with the dance were more than entertained by the African beats alone, as they jumped up and down. When Dennis wasn't showing a dance he would take helm at dances as Ansah-Brew kept a beat sang with the audience. "Ahgo!" He shouted to the audi-

the instruments while Ansah-Brew

"Ahmay!" The audience shouted back. Ansah-Brew explained that "Ahgo" means "Are you listening?" or "Please listen." "Ahmay" means "Yes, I am listening." That phrase was repeated throughout the night several times until the performance came to an end.

The concert was a free event hosted by Ansah-Brew and Dennis the night before their main event. On April 4 they performed as the keynote speakers of the seventh annual Early Childhood Conference, which was held from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in The Commons. There they showed parents and early childhood professionals how music, dance and storytelling can help young children learn. This event was held by The Lower Shore Child Care Resource Center (LSCCRC) in partnership with the Judy Center of Worcester and Wicomico counties.

Residents of N.D. and Minn. begin to recover from flood

By Kelley Matney Staff Writer

As the Red River in North Dakota and Minnesota finally starts to recede, citizens try to start the cleanup process and get back to their normal lives.

President Obama declared North Dakota a federal disaster area because of the statewide flooding that was taking place. This means the federal government would cover 75 percent of the cleanup costs, while the rest is up to the state and local governments.

Initial estimates suggest tens of millions of dollars in damages to roads, bridges, and wastewater treatment plants and other public resources, as well as damage to some homes and businesses.

In Minnesota, preliminary assessments have showed more than $20 million in public damage in seven counties, with the most damage in Clay County, where the city of Moorhead is located.

In North Dakota, Fargo's city administrator said the cost of cleaning up the Fargodome, home of the North Dakota University football team could total $1.5 million. The building was used for filling sandbags to hold back the river.

Forecasters have said the river may rise again when more snow melts but it isn't estimated to reach the levels it reached over the last weekend in March. The river hit record heights on March 29 when it reached 40.82 feet.

Fargo Mayor Dennis Walaker said in an interview with the Associated Press that they had no immediate plans to clean up the close to 3 million sandbags at the river's edge, just in case the river level rose again.

Businesses in Fargo were allowed to reopen on April 1.

"It's going to be a slow process," said Holly Scott, at the city's emergency operations center on April 2. "We need to make sure it's safe for folks to be back at home again."

GLOBAL

Is Obama

the auto

By Meredith Ray

industry?

The Obama administration

adopted an 'industrial policy' on March 30, which will determine the products the auto industry can make and the future of these companies.

tempt to save American automakers, out many say it steps over the line of

"There's always been a line over respect to the distinction between the public and private sectors.

Obama has now crossed that line where there is no limit to governor control over it," declared Rush

Limbaugh in his daily radio broad-cided that Rick Wagner, CEO of Chrysler should merge with Italian automaker Fiat, that GM is still relying too much on trucks and SUVs and that GM's Chevy Volt, a new marketplace.

electric car, is too expensive for the

These decisions are typically reserved for the boardroom or corporate meetings, but now the decisions are coming from the White House.

This notion has drawn intense criti-

"When did the president become an expert in strategic corporate management?" asked Rep. Tom Price of Georgia, chairman of the conserva-

"The federal government is famous for its mismanagement, yet this administration continues to demonstrate its certainty that Washington adamantly defends their actions and points to other presidents who inter-

Obama's actions are "consistent during economic crises," said Allan

Lichtman, a professor at American University and an expert on the presidency. "And it's absolutely consistent with patterns of presidents intervening to make sure major components

During the Great Depression,

Franklin D. Roosevelt limited agricultural production to boost farm wages and prices in an attempt to roll back inflation.

prices. In 1971, Richard Nixon froze

Nonetheless, the Obama administration has entered challenging political territory and officials continue to downplay the notion that Obama is taking over the auto industry.

of the economy don't fail."

with the pattern of presidents acting

The Obama administration

vened in tough economic times.

always knows best."

tive Republican Study Committee.

cism from conservatives.

GM, should step down, that

The automotive task force has de-

ment's destruction of private activity which no president would cross with

The policy was adopted in his at-

Former Attorney General Alberto Gonzales is one of six from the Bush adminstration who are accused of breaking international law.

Bush administration officials accused of justifying torture

By Sarah Duffy

towards opening a criminal investi- crusader Judge Baltasar Garzón, gation of six former high-level Bush administration officials with allegations that they provided the legal framework to justify the torture of prisoners at Guantanamo Bay in Cuba. Among the six who are accused of violating international law are former Attorney General Alberto R. Gonzales and David S. Addington, who was the chief of staff and legal adviser to accused of torture and mistreat-Vice President Dick Cheney.

A 98-page complaint was prepared by Spanish lawyers and filed American experts said the signifion March 17 by the Association for the Dignity of Prisoners, a Spanish human rights group. The complaint is based on the Geneva arrests if the accused officials do Convention and the 1984 Conven- not leave the United States.

tion against Torture, which is binding in 145 countries, including Spain and the United States. The A Spanish court has taken steps case was given to human rights who gained international fame after providing an arrest order for Augusto Pinochet for the murder, disappearance, and torture of Spanish citizens under his military > dictatorship in Chile. If the case does proceed, it will represent a step towards legal accountability of top Bush administration officials who are being ment of prisoners in the campaign against terror. However, some cance could be more symbolic than practical, and that it is unlikely the warrants would lead to

Chinese spies' GhostNet uncovered

By Laura Dignan

Canadian researchers at the Information Warfare Monitor (IWM) from the University of Toronto discovered an electronic spying operation based out of China. The operation, which the researchers cess to 1,000 computers in 103

The targets of GhostNet have mainly been political - NATO, the Indian Embassy in Washington, D.C. and other foreign ministries, banks, news organizations and Tibetan exile able to search computer data concenters in Brussels, London, India

"These organizations are almost certainly oblivious to the compromised situation in which they find mats, military attachés, private assistants, secretaries to prime ministers, concealed control of unknown as-

vealed when the Toronto researchers spy network were asked by the exiled Tibetan leader, the Dalai Lama, to search his organization's computers in Dharamsala, India for malicious software. While the malware was found to be based in China, the researchers cannot prove that the Chinese government is linked to the operation. Similar attacks and spying these same networks over the past two years and all have originated in

Access to these computers was gained through a Trojan Internet virus called Ghost Rat. GhostNet is tent, read e-mails and activate web cameras and microphones to spy on

Robert Barnett, director of the Modern Tibetan Studies Program at themselves. The computers of diplo- Columbia University, said he and other employees have been getting emails containing the virus Ghost Rat journalists and others are under the for about 18 months. Over time, these e-mails have become extremely sophisticated making it harder for in-The cyber-spying process was revestigators to trace the origin of the

taking over CORNER

1795-France adopts the meter as the basic measure of length.

1940-Booker T. Washington becomes the first African American to be depicted on a United States postage stamp.

April 8 1946-The last meeting of the League of Nations, the precursor of the United Nations, is held.

1990-New Democracy wins the national election in Greece.

April 9 1953-Warner Brothers prenieres the first 3-D film, entitled House of Wax.

1957-The Suez Canal in Egypt is cleared and opens to shipping

April 10 1916-The Professional Golfers Association of America (PGA) is created in New 1925-The Great Gatsby by F. Scott Fitzgerald is first published in New York City, by Charles Scribner's Sons.

April 11 1955-The Air India Kashmir Princess is bombed and crashes in a failed assassination attempt on Zhou Enlai by the Kuomintang.

2000-AT&T Park in San Francisco, Minute Maid Park in Houston, and Comerica Park in Detroit open.

April 12 1606-The Union Flag is adopted as the flag of Great Britain.

1992- Disneyland Resort Paris opens in the eastern suburbs of Paris, France.

April 13 1870- The Metropolitan Museum of Art is founded.

1997-Tiger Woods becomes the youngest person to win golf's Masters Tournament.

STUDENT RENTALS

& 4 BEDROOM HOUSES

217 MARYLAND AVE SALISBURY, MD

443.880.0274

The Flyer

money... and maybe a Hershey's

"Money, lots and lots of

Beth McCullar - freshman

Layout Editor

Graphic Design Leah Cox

News Editor Corey Meissner flyernews@salisbury.edu

Photography Sarah Wright Editor flyerphotos@salisbury.edu

Heather Herb Sarah Jacobs Brett Morgan Adrienne Price Kelly Robinson Telecia Taylor

Staff Writers

Advertising Brooke Cebula Lindsay Eastman Diana King

"A million dollars."

Casey Merriman - sophomore

"A big Reese's peanut butter cup... I'm talking HUGE!"

EDITORIAL-

Overheard: What do you want to find in your Easter basket?

Pat Gotham - sophomore

'A set of 5:25 BMW car kevs."

Virlene Parker - sophomore

Salisbury University's Student Voice Phone: 410-543-6191 Fax: 410-677-5359 flyer@salisbury.edu Salisbury University Salisbury, MD 21801

> Sarah Lake Editor in Chief

Kelly Pahl Sarah Wright

Life & Style Katelyn Johnson Editor flyerfeatures@salisbury.edu

Global/ Jeremy Riffle Editorial Editor

Sports Editor Jeff Southworth Advertising Mike Brusoe Manager flyerads@salisbury.edu

Copy Editor Natalie Hearn

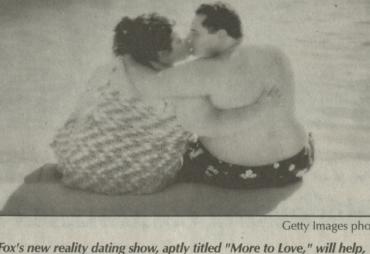

Photographers Dan Anderson April Katsirubas Daniel McFarland

Assef Assefi

Cara Barrett

Edward Baidoo

Eric Buratty Robert Cogdell II Therran Dennis Laura Dignan Sarah Duffy Diana Dwyer Amanda Durski Samantha Ernest Gwyneth Ferrance Samantha Fisher Shane Hill Fred Hobbs Bethany Jeffries Vanessa Junkin Kathleen Kasik Jeremy Kummer Ashlee Laughlin Nick Lehwald Morgan Majchrzak Stacie Manger Kelley Matney Daniel McElwain Kyra Milbourne Jacqueline Miller Kayla Moore Jonathan Moynihar Benjamin Muell Jonathan Murga Lucas Pangburn Michael Piorunsk Meredith Ray Randon Ryland Lauren Sadler Rachael Stone Kaitlyn Sullivan Tara Underwood Jillian Verpent Casey Wachter Tom Watson

Fox's new reality dating show, aptly titled "More to Love," will help, um, big-hearted people find love.

'More to love' for everyone

By Tara Underwood Staff Writer

Fox's More to Love dating show will feature average-looking people and will be the first dating show competition for overweight people. Fox is teaming up with Mike Fleiss, producer of The Bachelor. The show has no set air date but is accepting contestants and will have a similar format as The Bachelor, with a type of people who get numergroup of women competing to win the heart of a man.

The Bachelor and The Biggest More to Love to be created. The ratings of both shows were extremely high and popular with American audiences. Producers of More to Love think the show will be a big hit with the combination of both shows in one. This is the first show that will feature your average overweight American and reach many similar people. Now, overweight Americans will know they can find love and feel just as good as skinny, beautiful couples and be just as happy. Dating competitions aired on television have always featured standard size two women. Now, heavier women, who some may find not as attractive, will be featured and have the same chance that women who appear on The Bachelor do. It's about time average-looking people are featured on the media. It is always the same

ous shots at being rewarded on television. Most shows only air contestants because of their More to Love will be the first dating competition show that allows any typical person to be accepted and not have their who they are inside. Dating shows like this point towards a change—average, everyday-looking people are now being featured on television. Average Americans finally have the chance to feel just as good as the ones who are always physical appearance valued over #### to 17-year-old girls such a huge decision, and I am not sure if some 18-year-olds Federal Judge Edward Korare, but the law is the law.

Plan B will be available

By Morgan Majchrzak Staff Writer

man has ruled that 17-year-olds should be able to get the morning-after pill without a prescrip-. tion, changing the previous Food and Drug Administration's eyes of the law — she can join rule of the pill being available to the military, she can vote women 18 and older and only by purchase from a pharmacy counter. This, I feel, is absolutely ridiculous. These girls are 17, which means they are underage and therefore still minors. Also, at 17, parents make decisions for line is that at 18, you are an the child because the child is still adult. a minor in the eyes of the law. By passing this law, the judge is hypothetically supporting premarital teenage sex and the fact that if a 17-year-old thinks she is pregnant, she can now go buy a pill to make things better and make the problem go away.

I now see why teenagers are getting pregnant — it is because of judges like this that allow 17 year-olds the option to get rid of an unwanted pregnancy. Now, more teenagers will be fix' to an unwanted pregnancy is in every pharmacy. So many teenagers are going to see this as a golden opportunity to make pregnancy no longer an issue. Since the judge feels that 17year-olds can make this decision then why can't they vote or join the military? If we are allowing such a huge responsibility to fall on them with Plan B, then the age for other rights and respon-I feel that 17-year-olds aren't mentally mature enough to make

I really feel that the judge should have kept the original policy of 18 years or older. At 18, a woman is an adult in the there is no more mommy hand holding. Being 18 carries many more responsibilities, and I feel that purchasing Plan B should be one of them. Parents are not legally obligated to make medical decisions, and the bottom

I feel like the judge should reverse this decision. It is wrong for 17-year-olds to have this in their hands. They are minors! Shame on the judge for granting this option to minors and for thinking they can make such a sibilities should be lowered, too. Plan B, a morning-after pill, will now be an option for 17- year-olds.

Internet photo

"BAD NEWS!...THE BANKING CRISIS, THE HOUSING CRISIS, AND THE CREDIT CRISIS HAVE JUST RESULTED IN A CRISIS CRISIS!

Editorial Policy: Letters are welcomed and ENCOUR-AGED. Please include your name and your class. Faculty members, please include your department. Letters should be no longer than 400 words. The Flyer reserves the right to refrain from publishing any text. Deadline for submission is Wed. at 5 p.m. Please e-mail letters to flyer@salisbury.edu.

Have you seen yourself in The Flyer? Stop by GUC 215 Monday - Thursday with your flashdrive and we'll give you your pictures free of charge!

~SUDOKU~

2 8 7 3 5 9 5 6 6 1 6

Solution to last week's puzzle:

	4	3	5	7	8	2	1	9	6
	6	8	7	4	1	9	5	2	3
	1	2	9	5	.6	3	4	8	7
	3	5	4	8	9	6	2	7	1
	7	1	8	3	2	5	9	6	4
	2	9	6	1	7	4	8	3	5
l	5	7	1	9	3	8	6	4	2
	9	4	2	6	5	7	100000000000000000000000000000000000000	1	8
	8	6	3	2	4	1	7	5	9

Large Deal 261A Canal Park Dr. Large 1-Topping Pizza 410-742-6900

Obama as his "new comrade." The provided added humor. All of this pleases those who are wide-eyed and spilling Kool-Aid from their glasses, but for those who do monitor the contents of their intellectual sustenance, take heart! The prospect of universally accepted statism is not favored by all, and in the ranks of the G20, further embedded in the European Union, is a man who is following his convictions.

Vaclav Klaus is the president of the Czech Republic and an outspoken against leaders who despise capitalism economist who despises the state conthat people are all treated as equals; trolling individual's lives. He holds the view that Europe is now similar to the antebellum of WWII. Inasmuch as Europe was controlled by several large powers then, he sees the same

> Mr. Klaus's beloved Czech Republic has been privatizing much of their economy, and although under pressure from the global crisis, they are still maintaining. GDP growth has been around 6 percent and the country has imposed flat taxes. For those proponent of sanity. Klaus is a former unacquainted with flat taxes, it means ideology based on putting nature and environment and their supposed proeveryone pays the same proportion of tection and preservation before and above freedom." Rather refreshing. What of our most recent and glorious economic stimulus? Mr. Klaus has the audacity to consider our recent not punished for productivity - how central planning a "way to ruin." Personally, I prefer his prime minister's characterization of a "road to hell." While holding the rotating EU presidency, Mr. Klaus has used the platform to champion an alternate Mr. Klaus said of climate change, "enviewpoint on many issues, for which I applaud him.

Electronic health care system would help U.S.

By Eric J. Buratty Staff Writer

demanding health care, it will only be like reasonable implications for why a matter of time until the old method of medical paperwork is pushed aside all together. The new method of electronic health records will dominate the modernized health care system within the next three years because it allows for easy exchange of clinical data between hospitals, doctors and other forms of medical care.

Let's face it: no one likes filling out ble notes. the same forms over and over again, whether it is personal information or sacrifices in the short run, but with medical background information. It Obama's stimulus plan, there should will be constructive to modernize the be no reason why some effort cancurrent health care system through not be dedicated towards this converintegrating electronic health records sion process. In a professionalized so patients do not have to depend on sense, electronic health records "snail mail," phone calls and confus- would link all kinds of medical care ing physicians' notes. So why are hos- by a keystroke. Maybe the resistance pitals and other medical professions to such a productive capacity is the Hospitals argue that the conversion more about their budget than our would be a slow, costly process. This health.

Although this is an unacceptable friends and I who are black have gone to Brew River nearly every began. We went to Brew River

my friends and me enter into the weekend since the semester

bar. The bouncer, who was white, told my friend that his shirt was too large, but he was a few inches below his waist. My the cuff of his pants to show the bouncer that he was wearing shoes, not boots. We accepted the bouncer's decision and returned to the parking lot. Another friend of mine, who is

Letter to the Editor

Student concerned about possible situation I think it is interesting bouncer would not let him. We and should be investigated. My stopped an individual who was this weekend and they did not let individual wore the jersey, the wearing a polo, which was in fact affects only a small group of inother friend was told that he was this story should be investigated wearing boots, which were also or published, as I am sure we are against the dress code. He lifted not the first to experience this discrimination at Brew River is due to rising maintenance costs, lack of technical knowledge by staff, and uncertainty in the investment in With increasing numbers of people the short run. Of course these seem hospitals desire to adopt different standards, but sometimes change is

> The process would not only be environmentally friendly by saving billions of dollars each year on paper, but would also reduce time spent filling out the same information everywhere patients go, and reduce the time spent reading physicians' illegi-

The slow start would require some resisting electronic health records? physicians' way of saying they care

Hispanic, was entering Brew

River wearing a jersey which was slightly oversized and the same white before he walked into the exact same jersey that our Hispanic friend was wearing. This

EXACT same fit (oversized) as bouncer allowed him to enter the club. I understand that this story dividuals on campus. I believe same type of situation. It is discouraging to witness that we have not progressed from the racist norms of the past.

— An anonymous student

Prime Rib Au Jus

Grilled Salmo

Roast Turkey with Matzah Stuffing

221 Green Bean Passover Baklava Cake

Passover Apple Crisp

Passover Lemon Cheesecak

4:30-7:30 p.m • In The Bistro

Potato Latkes

my Hispanic friend, and the bar and asked him to wear the their income. Rather than have the middle class berate the upper income class to pay the poor, individuals are

So how does Mr. Klaus the trend-setter feel about the "real" issues like global warming and our current economic "let the kids pay it" policies?

vironmentalism, which is a new anti-individualistic, pseudo-collectivistic

Pope Benedict XVI greeted crowds in Yaoundé, Cameroon, on Wednesday, where he addressed the country's 31 bishops on the second day of his trip.

Dispersing condoms is not the answer in Africa

By Kyra Milbourne Staff Writer

Pope Benedict XVI made his first trip to the continent of Africa as pope on Tuesday. On his way to Cameroon's capital Yaoundé, the pope said to reporters, "You can't resolve the problem of HIV with the distribution of condoms. On the contrary, it increases the problem." In addition, he said a responsible attitude towards sex would help fight the disease.

The rising issue of AIDS in Africa has been debated by many, condom usage is just a conveneven causing conflict within the clergy. About two-thirds of all people in Africa are living with HIV, and the crisis continues to rise. The pope's comments caused much debate across the world, many felt the pope was just standing up for the beliefs of liefs and values were instilled in the church, but some thought his him as a child and he has been comments were offensive toward Africans. The Catholic Church remains true to its religious convictions, believing abstinence is the true way to preserve your

Condoms have been used as a form of contraception for a long time, but as the growing list for contraception begins to overlap, are condoms the answer needed to decrease the spread of HIV? When used effectively, condoms can be up to 99 percent effective, but only when used correctly and out of habit. Studies show that much of the challenge in containing HIV is due to rape. Will rapists really have the sophistication and morals to use contracep-

HIV has been an ongoing issue in Africa for centuries, and as the outburst continues to swell the continent with infection, maybe a new approach is needed. You can pass out condoms all you want, hoping that the people will use them, but it's not guaranteed. These people need to be made aware of the consequences of their actions. Knowledge on the virus can never be deteriorated. It will stick with them, whereas ience. By passing out condoms we're condoning their incautious actions. We need to instill morals in them to know that these carless actions have life-altering consequences. The pope was not wrong in his comments, these betaught to live by them. Condom usage is a good start in promoting safe sex, but more is needed to ensure that the people of Africa actually utilize this protec-

Bleeding? Broken? Infected? or Just Hurts! We can see you NOW!

Confidential & Convenient Medical Care OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK • NO APPOINTMENT Matzah Ball Sour

Monday-Saturday: 9 AM to 7 PM Sunday: 9 AM to 5 PM

Coughs/colds/sore throat Bronchitis Nausea/vomiting Ear aches

Fever/flu

Asthma/allergies

Cuts/lacerations Broken/fractured bones Sprains/strains Back pain Sports injuries Physicals

STDs/HIV testing Plan B GYN concerns Pregnancy tests Infections Meningitis vaccine

SALISBURY Immediate Care & INJURY CENTER

www.sbyimmediatecare.com MOST INSURANCE ACCEPTED

410-543-2020

659 S. Salisbury Blvd., Suite 2 Located in the Salisbury Health Pavilion, across the street from Wawa, on the right past Giant Supermarket and Walgreens.

The Flyer: Volume 36 Issue 20 LIFE & STYLE April 7, 2009

Making a splash with the Media Week dunk tank

Corey Meissner celebrates dunking Sarah Lake, Editor-in-Chief of The Flyer, at the Media Week dunk tank on Friday. Timothy Yorro (center), who is coordinating Media Week, worked at the event, while presidents of media-related clubs took turns in the tank. Media Week will take place April 22-25.

Mae and Hotspur rock CAC's Smoke-Free

By Robert Cogdell III Staff Writer

On Saturday, April 4, clusters of SU students in blue "Smoke Free SU" shirts lined Red Square eagerly anticipating the Mae and Hotspur concert. Hosted by Colleges Against Cancer (CAC), the live performance of the two bands was organized to raise awareness of cancer and other health issues resulting from cigarette smoking.

As the two regional Myspace bands Hotspur and Mae took the platform, students rushed towards. the stage and soon began jumping, fist pumping and screaming in ex-

"I think it's amazing they're here on such a small campus compared to larger arenas they could be Pounce. Even Mr. Butts, the CAC mascot, joined in on the jumping The concert was funded by the Wicomico County Cigarette Restitution Fund, according to CAC copresident Eric Kennedy, who said that "working with the booking agent, they knew we were with a non-profit organization and we were able to get them for much less than normal." Colleges Against Cancer was founded in 2006, and since then they have continued to "work for In addition to the concert, stucancer education and advocacy," dents were voluntarily invited to said CAC co-president Lauren sign a Smoke Free Campus peti-

Friedman. They have been tion and in turn received a free red awarded the Leader of Hope or blue t-shirt. The Smoke Free award, which recognized their ac-Campus petition, proposes a tive chapter and activities on cam-"parking lot only designated area for smokers," said CAC member One of their more recent events Karen Wittkamper. Although was the "I Put Out" carnival in response to Smoke Free Maryland. CAC also hosts Relay for Life, arguably the largest event where student organizations fund the American Cancer Society's fight many signatures were collected, not all students agreed on a smoke free campus.

"I feel like an outcast. Parking lots aren't well enforced safe areas and it's not the fault of the smokers that the University places smoking areas next to buildings,' said junior Eric Disque.

The Salisbury University Smoking Policy designates smoking areas for each campus building and prohibits smoking within 30 feet of entrances, which Kennedy says, "is a gray area."

"I understand why [smokers] are not supportive, but the health risks outweigh the right to smoke," Friedman said.

Students may e-mail CAC@salisbury.edu for more information on

Kelly Robinson photo

ers will also receive prizes. "There are so many talented eople at our school," Hicks said. 'SU Idol is a great way for them get out there and be recog-

Students can singing with

Salisbury Idol

This week begins the annual

SOAP event that gives hopeful and ralented singers across the campus

a chance to show off their skills.

Salisbury University: it is time for

The singing competition is organized into two stages. The first stage is auditions. Open auditions are on Tuesday, April 7, from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. in the Gulls Nest.

Students who want to try out are

Instead of Paula, Simon, Randy and Kara, SU Idol's judging panel will consist of three judges made up of both students and faculty.

They will be looking for students with talented voices, charisma and

From the auditions, the judges will choose who makes it to the inal stage. The number chosen

Stage two is the final competi-

ion, which will take place one week from auditions, on Tuesday,

April 14, from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m.

"The students will be able to oick their own songs for the final ompetition and have music," said

OAP President Jessica Hicks. "In

make their final decision based on

Holloway Hall, the judges will

First, second and third place

vinners will be chosen. The winner will receive a prize package as well as the honor of being the SU

Idol. Second and third place winalent and crowd reaction."

n Holloway Hall.

depends on how many students try asked to prepare a one to two minute a capella piece.

stage presence.

showcase

By Amanda Durski

Staff Writer

In years past, SU Idol has been a very popular event with a great

> "I want it to get even bigger," said SOAP Concert Chair Brad Deise. "I hope to see the Gulls Nest packed for auditions and big numbers at the final perform-

Simon Cowell might not be at SU Idol, but talent definitely will

From the Photo Bank: What's Happening On Campus

Concert attendees jump for joy with Mr. Butts, the CAC mascot, at the Mae and Hotspur concert in Red Square.

Sarah Wright photo

CJ Dyson, Ashley Francis, Shaun Fitzmaurice, Samantha Godwin and Erin Kilie wait in line at Wednesday's Red Bull paper airplane event.

Students pose with lecturer Stacy Nadeau Tuesday night after her "Real Women, Real Curves" presentation.

Anansegromma performs for attendees at Friday's Early Childhood Conference.

Mae performs in Red Square Saturday night during ZTA sisters Anne Klase, Caroline Curran, Katie Parker CAC's Smoke-Free SU concert.

and Catie Owanoff promote breast cancer awareness.

Ms. Advice answers all your questions, even private ones, in complete confidentialty.

Send your questions to: kk14480@students. salisbury.edu

'I found out that my best friend has cheated on her boyfriend while intoxicated. My concern is that she feels little remorse for her actions. She told me that she doesn't think her cheating was a big deal because she "was just drunk." I don't know if I can ever feel the same way about her. If she doesn't feel remorse about her actions and doesn't want to be honest about her mistakes, is she the kind of person I can be best friends with? Am I overreacting?"

You're not overreacting. Forget the cheating, lying and moral issues. Help her to focus on the underlying problem; she's putting herself in dangerous and unhealthy situations and hurting the people closest to her. She doesn't need to hear that sleeping with her boyfriend's best friend is wrong -- she's not an idiot. And you're her friend who wants to help.

What would she do if you were her? Ask her. Try to avoid judging her and do your best to reach out and help her. Ifshe refuses your help, make it clear that you won't lie or cover up for her. That's not who you are and it's not who you'll become.

'I have been doing the 'friends with benefits" thing with a guy. All of a sudden he will not answer the phone when I call. But when he calls, I am supposed to jump for him. I need to get it together because more and more I've been feeling cheap. Should I call it off or stay and try to take control of the situation?"

He really doesn't have a reason to call you back unless he's looking for more benefits. It's just how this relationship has been set up. When he avoids you, assume he's dating someone or reaping another woman's benefits. In either case, he'll call you when he wants to call you (usually at 3 a.m. when he's looking for benefits).

Rather than beating yourself up and calling yourself names, call it a mistake. Stop it. End it. Don't repeat it. Next time he calls, tell him that his benefits have run out. If he wants to know why, tell him it's about respect and the lack of it given to you.

Kelly Robinson photo

Kristen Anchor, Director of Creative Alliance Movie Makers, visited SU's Electronic Gallery for the premiere of the new exhibit.

Anchor speaks at eGallery exhibit

By Diana Dwyer

this invention, they show shows, right?" as a movie quote. At SU, it is the title of the new, innovative Electronic Gallery exhibit.

The eGallery exhibit premiered Friday night with a visit from Kristen Anchor, Director of Creative Alliance the year.' MovieMakers since 2001. Anchor currently hosts 40 screenings and 50 professional programs annually.

"Creative Alliance is a multiuse, nonprofit art center in Baltimore," Anchor said. "It is an asset to the Baltimore community because it offers emerging artists a chance to showcase their work and rent out necessary equipment to get started."

Creative Alliance supports artists by niring them and teaching them how to use software. The program curently has around 1,200 members. The art scene in Baltimore is a starting point for artists because it is always growing and there are many

Graduates are invited to apply for the Residency Program. "It is designed to help get that ca-Pulp Fiction fans recognize "and on reer started by getting some exposure through doing projects with the Creative Alliance and also living in a culture where other people are making artwork," Anchor said. "You have the opportunity to collaborate with other artists and get critiques throughout

> The eGallery is presented on four screens representing Performance, Animation, Narrative and Non-Narrative work. There are headphones at each station to listen to music and narration accompanying each work. The program is ongoing until April 14 and is open to the public between 11 a.m. and 11 p.m. in TETC 128.

"It's been a great experience putting this show together. The Electronic Gallery is a great addition," said Gallery Director Preston Poe. "We've been getting a lot of good feedback from people. If you haven't been in, come in and take a look." For more information on Creative Al liance, visit www.creativealliance.org.

isbury University students.

"There will be a diverse group of models in our fashion show," Turner said, who hopes to reach out to every students to know how to prepare for

In addition to the runway portion,

there will be a combination of enter-

Squawkappella, a song by Azah Ndeh

The "Dress for Success" Fashion

Show is free for the SU community but Career Services asks everyone in-

Facebook or confirm their attendance

by answering an e-mail invite sent by

Charlie Endicott. Refreshments and a

If you go

WHAT. "Dress for Success"

WHERE. Wicomico Room

COST. Free, but RSVP

WHEN. Thursday, April 9, 7

INFO. Business professional

fashions will be showcased.

fashion show

p.m.-9 p.m.

$25 raffle will also be included.

terested in attending to RSVP via and a performance by the Gospel culture that exists at SU. "We want their career appearance-wise."

tainment including SU's own ents were held.

Jason Balish and Jared Young spoke to parents. "We met with the the festival ensemble.

Classical guitar festival

The festival kicked off with "Finger Aerobics." Along with practicing before playing a piece, the tudents were instructed on how to correctly position their guitars and how to properly use their fingertips

"This warm up is crucial for guitar players in order to play effi-parents and touched on our own personal experiences as guitarists, advice on how to help their chilany questions they had regarding SU who has been playing for six festival held here and the partici-I was pleased to see how many people attended," Balish said.

said he has been under her wing in

At Saturday's guitar festival, people learned about playing the instrument from Dr. Danielle Cumming and her students.

assured Cumming, who is also a certified yoga instructor for musicians. The class finds all the spots where guitar players experience muscle aches and stresses due to periods of time.

the music department for two years now and says he has grown as a player since practicing with her.

"She is an incredible player who effortlessly and beautifully plays I'm grateful to have her as an instructor, as she is extremely patient and humble," he said.

The festival also included a playble rehearsal and a concert by classical guitarist Zane Forshee and

Unordinarily S(h)ane The College Kid

look forward to our entire childprincesses, astronauts and movie our futures post-high school. For some, it would be the work force, lege. For others, though, our lives pens when our parents make the rules? Will we ever be given the opportunity to

Most of us are new to bank accounts, leases and maybe even cell phone bills, and it is understandable

Isn't college a time to develop and become our own person? To leave the nest, fly with our own wings and hunt how we've been taught? Shouldn't we think, act and be responsible for ourselves? This could be anything from getting that job to signing up for that class.

Sometimes it takes proving we can make it on our own, other times, it's just doing it. Especially for some parents who play our lives like a game, I'd say, games are for kids. We're college students, isn't it time we made

Career Services to host Dress for Success fashion show

By Ashlee Laughlin

On Thursday, April 9, Career Services will be presenting its very first business professional "Dress for Success" fashion show to exhibit proper business wear from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. in the Wicomico Room located in the Guerrieri Center. This runway show will be conducted to spread knowledge on how to be properly dressed

Senior and Career Services intern Wayne Turner is the mastermind behind coordinating the show, along with his employer, Associate Director of Career Services Charlie Endicott. Turner will be hosting and will be accompanied by several performers. Turner expressed his reason for putting together a show with such substance by mentioning how some students are unaware of how to dress appropriately for business functions. "Mr. Endicott and [I] thought it would be a good idea to put on a business fashion show for faculty and students of SU. We also discussed how we could display the proper clothing options for events such as interviews and job fairs," Turner said. Models will include a variety of Sal-

bridges young and old By Rachael Stone Staff Writer

On Saturday, Salisbury held a guitar festival, hosted by Dr. Danielle Cumming, associate professor of music, and sponsored by SU, Planet Waves and D'Addario.

to create the perfect tone.

how we began and how we ended up where we are today. We gave the parents of the blooming guitarists dren as musicians and answered this," said Balish, a guitar major at

"This was the first classical guitar pants were eager to play and learn.

As far as Cumming goes, Balish

the unnatural posture held for long even the most difficult of pieces.

After the students were ready to being playing, a group session for beginners as well as a master class and an information session for par- ing competition, lunch, an ensem-

By Shane Hill Staff Writer

hoods. We used to dream of being stars and letting nothing get in our way. The sky was the limit to what we could do. Somewhere, between puberty and life, reality happened and yet we were still optimistic about the military, parenthood and/or colwould be dictated by the very people who told us we could reach for the stars. And so I wondered, what hapmature to adulthood or will we forever be just college kids?

to help us and in some respects we are still dependent. Although, restrictions on what we buy and what

Growing up is something we often friends we hang out with can be acts love and dictatorship and some parents have already crossed enemy lines. These same enemies often assume we're up to no good and give us little to no privacy and/or freedom, only they're not enemies, they're our parents.

for our parents or guardians to want our own rules?

TUESDAY, Wednesday & Thursday College Nights
w/ valid college ID 50 cents off game price $1.50 Natural Light Drafts after 9 p.m. Valid college ID and Driver's License required

FRIDAY & Saturday Night Glow Bowl
Friday 9:30pm to close; Saturday 7 pm to close

Regular Open Bowling Hours:

Monday - 9:30 am - 6 pm & 8:30 pm to 11 pm Tuesday - 9:30 am - 6 pm & 9 pm to dosing time Wednesday - 9:30 am to closing time Thursday - nam to closing time Friday - 9:30 am to closing time Saturday - 11 am to closing time Sunday - 9:30 am to doring time

Cherokee Lanes 1524 S. Salisbury Blud. (410) 742-3030

***Closing time is determined by Business

What's Cooking!

By Michael Piorunski Staff Writer

Last week's recipe offered a relatively quick and easy option for making a healthy dinner when you're short on time, and school work is piling high. In this cognitively challenging road to the end of the semester it's especially important to make sure to eat a healthy, nutritious breakfast.

Breakfast doesn't need to be elaborate, but it does need to be consistent of carbohydrates, protein, fiber and possibly dairy to provide your body and brain with sufficient fuel to get you through the day. Oatmea and berries is one of my favorite combinations to start the morning. Oats are rich in antioxidants called phenols, and packed with fiber. Also, the phenols in oats are more effective in combination with Vitamin C, which is a main staple in strawberries (one cup provides mo than 100 percent of DV). I prefer steel cut oats, also called "Irish style oats," over quick oats and rolled oats, and I stay away from the individually packaged oatmeal because it often contains added preservatives and sugars. Giant carries Nature's Promise brand Steel Cut Oats in the cereal section for around $1.30 a pound. Also, strawberries are on sale this week so be sure to pick-up a package for breakfast and snacking.

Recipes for a tight budget

Steel Cut Oats and Berries

/2 cup Steel Cut Oats ("Irish Style Oats") cup milk (or soymilk) cup water 2 cup strawberries, sliced

(about 3-4 medium berries) Pinch of cinnamon Dash of vanilla extract (op-

Method:

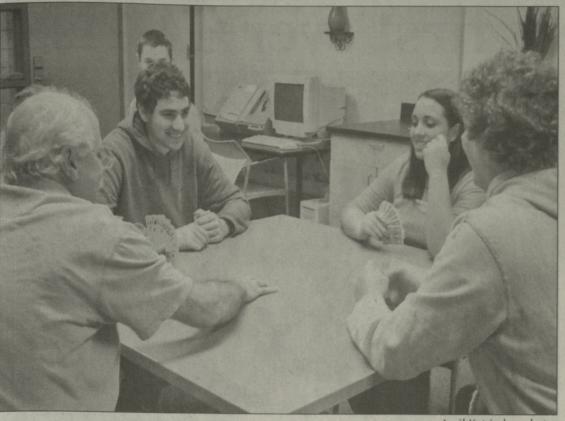

1. Place oats in small or medium sized pot and toast for about 1-2 minutes over medium heat. Add cinnamon and swirl pot to coat oats, dry heat for an additional 30 seconds until you can smell cinnamon and a slight nutty scent from oats. 2. Add water first, then add milk (this will prevent milk from burning); bring to slow rolling boil. Add vanilla if using. After reaching a boil, reduce heat to a simmer. Cook for about 3-4 minutes making sure to stir occasionally to prevent any from sticking to bottom and burning. 3. After the liquid looks half absorbed and oats start to thicken, add strawberries.

4. Remove from heat when water and milk is not quite completely absorbed and oats have softened. Top with some fresh sliced berries and another pinch of

Club Spotlight —

Dr. Mark Holland, Joe Esposito, Taylor Sinatra, Jessica DiPietro and Josh Emsurak (pictured left to right) spend their Wednesday nights playing different card games at the playing card club.

Playing Card Club

By Casey Wachter Staff Writer

The playing card club is a started at SU this semester. The club meetings are a time to get to- games including 3 to 13, rummy, gether and play games like hearts, pinochle and spades.

Joseph Esposito, an information systems major, and history major Jessica DiPietro started the club officially two weeks ago.

"The first half of the meeting, we teach a new game to everyone member. who attends. The second half is a free for all; everyone can play what they choose," DiPietro said. club. According to Holland, he

"The club is a place to have fun met the students while playing and relax. It is all fun now but there may be a possibility for tournaments in the future," Esposito said. The club has about 11 members right now and is welcoming more "We are open to everyone, even if you are not a seasoned card player. We will teach you. And if you know anything about cards, you can teach us," DiPietro said.

The members play a variety of hearts and pinochle. Learning and playing new games is also a reoccurring group activity.

"This is a great chance to play a fun game of cards and to meet new people," said Del Grosso, communications major and club

Biology professor Dr. Mark Holland is the advisor for the bridge with them last semester. Stemming from that, the playing card club was organized.

"I have always enjoyed playing cards and honestly, before I met these students, I didn't know jack about spades," Holland said. Not only is the card club a place

PIZZA! PIZZA!

TWO LARGE 1 TOPPING PIZZAS

$10.00

CALL 410-546-3900

1014S SALISBURY BLVD SALISBURY, MD 21801 (LIMITED TIME OFFER)

ORIGINAL ROUND, CARRYOUT ONLY,PLUS TAX

VALID ONLY AT SALISBURY LITTLE CAESARS LOCATION

TOPPING DOES NOT INCLUDE EXTRA CHEESE

to go and play a fun game, but it's also a place to meet new people and share a common interest.

The club meets weekly and is looking for anyone who is interested in enjoying a night of cardplaying and relaxing. It is a chance to get away from the books for a short time and be surrounded by great company and a good time.

The club meets every Wednesday in Henson 213 from 7:30 p.m. to 8:45 p.m.

If you go WHAT. Playing card club WHERE. Henson 213 WHEN. Wednesdays, 7:30 p.m.-8:45 p.m. COST. Free INFO. Students can learn new card games and enjoy

_Weekly Greek_ News Phi Mu to host charity denim event By Cara Barrett Staff Writer are Wal-Mart, WaWa and IHOP. The specific hospital that Phi On Monday, April 13, Phi Mu Mu's efforts benefit is Johns

Multicultural Student Services honored

The Princess Anne chapter of Links Inc. honored the office and staff of

SU's Multicultural Student Services at their 40th Anniversary Celebration on Saturday, March 14 at the Richard Henson Center in Princess Anne, Md. The theme for the awards luncheon was "A Promise to Keep: Helping Our Youth Succeed in the 21st Century." The keynote speaker for the occasion was Congresswoman Donna F. Edwards, U. S. House of Representatives, Mary-

The Office of Multicultural Student Services, under the leadership of Director, Vaughn P. White and Administrative Assistant, Andrea Wheatley, was honored as part of their national program area,"International Trends and Services." The Office has provided leadership and cultural programs over the past 20 years with a concerted interest in making sure that students service provided by the department. The mission of the Princess Anne from diverse and multicultural backgrounds are successful at the university level. In addition the chapter recognized the outstanding global community

Chapter of the Links, Incorporated is to promote and engage in educational, civic and intercultural activities in order to enrich the lives of the members will be hosting a Charity Denim event. Charity Denim is a nonprofit organization that sells women's and men's designer jeans at a discounted price to benefit charity events. In this instance, money is being donated towards Phi Mu's National Philanthropy, Children's Miracle Network.

land's 4th Congressional District.

and the larger community.

Charity Denim cannot specify particular event, but those who attend can expect higher-end name brand jeans that would be found at a department store. Although there will be a majority of women's jeans, there will also be a small selection of men's jeans. Phi Mu's Philanthropy Chair, Amanda Newman, hopes Charity Denim will "become an annual event.'

Children's Miracle Network is a non-profit organization that raises funds for children's hospitals so they can purchase needed equipment and items or provide other services to patients therefore striving to keep hospital costs to patients low. Other organizations that support Children's Miracle Network Hopkins Children's Center in Baltimore. Newman, who had the opportunity to tour Hopkins and see where their efforts went, said "it was an enlightening experience and I realized how much hospitals can benefit from having additional funding.'

Other philanthropic events in which Phi Mu participates include Hoop-a-Paluza. Hoop-a-Paluza is the main way that money for Children's Miracle Network is raised. Hoop-a-Paluza is a basketball free throw contest where participants obtain pledges from donors. Phi Mu wants to sponsor one major philanthropic event each semester. This semester Phi Mu is involved in the Big Event and is partnering with Sigma Alpha Epsilon (SAE), and is participating in Relay for Life, and other smaller events within the Salisbury community. The Charity Denim event runs from 10:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Nanticoke Room, which is above Gull's Nest, and they will be accepting cash and credit cards.

LIVE and WORK at the BEACH!

Ocean City, Maryland and Virginia Beach, Virginia Now hiring 150 crew members for the Summer Season

Earn S10,000+, Great Shape, Great Tan! Housing and Paid Internships Available!

Apply today at ocheachphotos.com

By Jeremy Kummer

Last Thursday, Salisbury University's men's tennis team completely the SU outdoor tennis courts. The dominated Virginia Wesleyan at streak to seven in a row. In their past four games, Salisbury has not lost a match, giving them a perfect

36-0 record. Salisbury has shut out five teams and they have yet to get shutout themselves. Winning in gave Salisbury (10-5, 3-1) their lantic South Region.

McFarland.

number seven ranking in the At-ginia Wesleyan. Throughout the games, Salisbury was never even

Salisbury went 3-0 in doubles straight sets at 8-0. Singles play was the same old story, as Salisbury won all six of their matches without losing a single game. The singles winners were freshmen

Women's Lacrosse

The No. 1 Salisbury

women's lacrosse team

Curtis Quandt, Justin Smith and play and had two of those wins in

"They were just better than Virreally threatened," said senior Dan such a controlling manner is what win stretched Salisbury's win

Staff Writer

SPORTS April 7, 2009 Salisbury suffers first ever CAC loss

Staff Writer

Just one week after losing their first game in 55 tries to Gettysburg, Salisbury ended another streak. 2,672 fans packed into Sea Gull Stadium Saturday night to witness Salisbury's first ever CAC

The Stevenson University Mustangs (11-0, 5-0) defeated Salisbury University (11-2, 5-1) 12-8. The game ended Salisbury's streak of 105 consecutive CAC victories and handed Salisbury their second loss this regular season - something that hasn't happened since

On Tuesday night, Salisbury defeated Mary Washington 14-5. The game started slow but the Gulls turned it on, scoring six goals in the third quarter to beat Mary Washington (7-5, 1-4).

Then there was the game on Saturday. Much tension has amounted between Salisbury and Stevenson in recent years and fans traveled down by the busload. The last time these teams met, Salisbury pounded Stevenson 20-10 in the CAC championship and it was obvious that Stevenson had something to

The Mustangs came out firing to start the game, winning the scoring a minute later to take the lead. Salisbury answered right back, leading 3-2 at the end of Freshman Matt Cannone (2 goals) scored to start the second quarter and put the Gulls up by two. Stevenson then quickly tied the game at four. Junior attackman Mike Winter then scored to give Salisbury the lead 5-4, their final lead of the game, but the Mustangs answered again to go up 6-5 at the half.

The third quarter turned out to be the difference-maker. Salisbury junior Mike Von Kamecke scored to start the quarter, tying the game for the fifth time. However, Stevenson's offense proved too strong, scoring five goals in the quarter to take their largest lead of the game, 11-6, Salisbury's largest deficit all season.

The game was characterized by mistakes. The Gulls completed only 50 percent of their clears, recorded four of their seven penalties in the quarter and had eight turnovers. Senior Kylor Berkman was held to just one assist in the game.

The Sea Gulls outshot Stevenson in the fourth quarter, scoring two goals, but it wasn't enough as the Mustangs ran the clock out on Salisbury. Salisbury's next game is opening face-off and shooting on against St. Mary's on April 10.

Daniel McFarland photo

Midfielder Shawn Zordani controls the ball against the Stevenson defense. The Sea Gulls are now ranked No. 5 according to the latest USILA coaches' poll.

Men's Baseball takes five

By Ben Muell Staff Writer

The No. 19 ranked Salisbury baseball team (22-4, 10-3) defeated College last week, pushing their current winning streak to nine games. Over the course of the five wins, Salisbury tallied 82 runs while holding their opponents to only four runs.

Last Wednesday, the win here at home against Gallaudet was their second 30 run game in as many weeks. Sophomore starting pitcher Dustin Herbert improved to 5-1 on the season as he threw four perfect innings and struck out nine. Offensive table setter Cody Collins went 4-for-4, scored four times and drove in two runs. The red-hot sophomore Andrew Miller went 3for-3 with a two run bomb, while also driving in six runs. Junior Mike Celenza, sophomore Fred Kreiger and freshman Matt Beck all connected for home runs.

The offensive firepower continued through the weekend. Last Saturday, the Gulls defeated Gallaudet 18-0 and 13-0 in the two weather shortened games. Celenza and freshman Bill Morton both taxed the Bison pitchers for solo shots.

Last Saturday, the No. 18-ranked

Head coach Margie Knight and as-

Sea Gulls hosted CAC foe Mary

Washington in a double header.

By Fred Hobbs

Staff Writer

Dan Anderson photo Sophomore Andrew Miller went 3-for-3 with a two run bomb, while Sophomores Alex Duda (3-0) and Drew Baldwin (1-0) both tossed complete game shutouts holding Gallaudet to only three hits over both games. The three victories were Salisbury's eight, ninth and tenth shutouts on the season.

On a perfect Sunday afternoon,

also driving in six runs against Gallaudet.

Salisbury took on and defeated the visiting Gators of Allegany College, 14-2 in the first of two games. SU's offense was provided by sophomore third baseman Brain Green who went 2-for-4 with two runs and four RBIs, three of them coming on a big bases loaded double in the second giving the Gulls a four run lead. Morton also went 2-for-2 with three RBIs and two runs scored. Millar and Celenza both added three hits each. Sophomore Kyle Judson went five strong innings only surrendering three hits and two runs while striking out five on his way to his sixth win of the

Softball soars over the Eagles header was 7-0, a dominant performance by Salisbury all-around.

complete game shutout with six and five runs in the fifth.

The Sea Gulls' defense did not ton for the rest of the game. The Sea

Gulls wrapped the second game up in five innings 9-1, giving them back-to-back wins on Saturday, while in-

In the second game of the double header, Salisbury continued to play solid baseball with a 7-2 win to close out the weekend. Chad Wolfe got his fourth win in another dominant performance. The junior only gave up three hits, one run and struck out four over five innings. The red-hot Millar continued to swing the stick well collecting two more hits as he scored twice and drove in one run. Celenza, who was hitting .451 before the weekend, the maroon and gold. The first game will be here at home on Wednesday and will be followed by a Saturday doubleheader on the road at Stevenson.

also had two hits knocked in three This week, the Gulls will close out the CAC regular season with three games against the Stevenson University Mustangs who are currently in second place in the conference standings, four games behind

One last chance for

Staff Writer

The past three years has been Groundhog Day for Andrew all three years they have been ousted from the D-II national tournament by the eventual

The Sea Gulls will take a 14-1 record this season, the sole loss happening in the first game of the year, and a number one seed in the Mid-Atlantic Regionals against the University of Wis-pressure on themselves," said "This is their last chance to win a championship and get that ring has gone on to win the whole on their finger."

utes the success to numerous aspects but truly points to one in particular. "Work ethic is how we always competed at a national level. We're not the 15 best rugby play- now, there is no next year."

going to work harder than any 15 rugby players on the field," Chell said. "So the fact in those last 25 minutes of the game when we can run circles around that other team it just benefits us that much more."

The reason the team is so driven is 10 of the 15 starters on the team are seniors. The national tournament, held in Florida, is two weeks away and for many of these seniors, this is their last moment in the sun athletically. Andrew Kendall does not want to leave Salisbury at graduation with the same bitter taste of the past three years.

"My thing is I've been beat the last three years and the team that put us out of the tournament thing - Coast Guard, Middle-The team showed their hunger bury and last year Radford — so might not have gone all the way, but we've always had really strong teams," Kendall said. "Every year I've come back you feel like there is unfinished business and really this is our last run at it, our last opportunity and there's not a doubt in my mind that we are the strongest team out there. It's do or die

top seed rugby team By Jonathan Murga ers you'll ever see, but we are

Kendall and the rugby team, as into their first tournament game consin. "They're putting incredible men's rugby coach Robert Davis.

in the MARFU semi-finals, beat- I feel like yeah, you can say you ing St. Joe's 13-9, and dominating the finals against Georgetown 24-12. Derek Chell, the outside center and a senior leader for the rugby team, attribSPORTS BEAT ★ SPORTS BEAT ★ SPORTS BEAT *SPORTS BEAT *SPORTS BEAT * picked up four wins in the beginning of the week after de-

Daniel Barnas winds up and serves the ball against Mary Washington. Barnas was the only Sea Gull

Tennis splits weekend games

Daniel Barnas, sophomores Gior-

After the dominating victory, Salis-

This game was not only important for Capital Athletic Conference standings, but had national came into Salisbury as the No. 16 team in the nation and wanted to keep their first place CAC ranking intact. Salisbury needed the win to surpass Mary Washington in the CAC standings and ensure a number one seed in the fast approaching CAC tournament, which

Last year, SU topped Mary

Washington in a regular season match-up and they would look to the same on Saturday. Salisbury get into a groove. Everything they

Thursday just wasn't good enough

Salisbury lost doubles play 2-1 and singles did not fare much better. Barnas was the only Sea Gull did against Virginia Wesleyan on against a much better opponent.

begins April 18.

gio Athans and Matt Copeland

and junior Marcus Robinson.

Mary Washington.

in a non-conference game last Tuesday. 13 different players scored for the Gulls. The Gulls (11-1) scored five 2 and 5-3. SU was led by junearly goals before Ursinus (1-8) scored one. Salisbury controlled the entire first half and went into halftime up 13-

* Sea Gulls* Sea Gulls*

Four different Sea Gulls recorded four-point games including senior midfielder Ashleigh Gender, junior attacker Beth Rhodey, sophomore attacker Meagan Osipowich and freshman midfielder Sarah Clemmens. Sophomore attacker Trish DiGirolomo and freshman midfielder Carrie Bray each recorded three point games. Senior goalkeeper Sonja Stuart played the entire game and finished with five saves and scooped up a team high of five ground balls. Softball

The SU softball team

feating Catholic twice and smacked Ursinus College 24-6 Stevenson twice.

Last Tuesday, the Gulls took two games from Catholic in a double header 9ior shortstop Kelly Waskewicz who went 3-for-5 at the plate and scored four runs over the two games. Senior pitcher Stacy Davis (11-2) recorded both wins after picking up 12 strikeouts and only giving up innings. Last Thursday, the Gulls defeated rival Stevenson in two games 11-1 and 12-0.

two runs in 10 and two-thirds

SU received two outstanding pitching performances from Davis and sophomore Kelsey Mills. In game one, Davis struck out 10 batters in six innings after giving up only one run. In the second game, Mills pitched a complete game after allowing only two hits and one walk, and she struck out seven.

Brenneman By Kaitlyn Sullivan

Staff Writer

The Salisbury softball team has gone 17-4 this season and 4-0 in the Capital Athletic Conference. Junior catcher Lauren Brenneman has been a key asset to the Gulls' team this season. She was just named CAC player of the week for the second time, and leads the team with a batting average of .450.

What is one of your favorite memories of playing softball? Besides beating ranked teams and winning CACs, I would have to say one of my best memories is making some of the greatest friends of my

How do you prepare yourself for a big game?

I usually listen to music to clear my mind. When I step onto the field, I zone into the game that lies ahead. It may be a superstition, but I also eat a Reese's peanut butter egg before each double header.

How did it feel being named

Lauren Brenneman

CAC player of the week for a second time? I was shocked to be named player of the week. This is the first year I received the honor, let alone twice in

What do you like to do when you are not playing softball? I love the outdoors. When I am not on the field, I enjoy going out fishing with my family and friends.

Who has been the biggest influence in your softball career? I would have to say my dad. He introduced me to the sport when I was eight years old. He knew I had potential to get where I am today and pushed me to make sure all of my dreams came true.

Where do you see yourself after college?

I will most likely end up going to graduate school to get my masters in either marine biology or ecology.

Track runs Penn Invitational

By Therran Dennis Staff Writer

Last Saturday, the Salisbury Iniversity men's and women's rack and field teams competed in he Penn Invitational at Franklin Field, hosted by the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia. The Sea Gulls held their own in competition as they were one of the 40 NCAA schools (Division I-III) that were invited to compete in the meet. Several sponsored club eams were also invited to take part in the invitational. The Sea Gull men were led by unior sprinter Cory Beebe, who competed in both the 400-meter hurdles, the 110-meter hurdles and Masha Berge who placed 17th in placed first overall in the 400-meter with a time of 53.34 seconds and placed second overall in the 110-meter with a time of 14.88. The 4x400 meter relay team of freshman sprinter Paul Moore, junior sprinter Quentin Briscoe, junior sprinter Mike Marfut and Beebe placed fourth with a time of 3.23.01, finishing behind Columbia, La Salle and the College of New Jersey. Junior sprinter Delannie Spriggs ran to a first place victory in the 100-meter dash with a time of 10.78 seconds. Spriggs also finished second in the 200-meter with a time of 21.94. Junior athlete Brandon Fugett placed second in the discus as he threw for a personal best distance of 161 feet and three inches. Fugett also placed second in the shot put with a toss of 52 feet, three quarters and three inches, the furthest thrown distance by all Division III shot putters so far in the season. Fugett's throw helped improve his provisional status for the Division III outdoor championships.

Junior distance runner Bill Nastasiak placed fifth in the men's 3,000-meter steeplechase with a time of 9.58.36. Nastasiak was the top Division III runner at the

The women were represented by sophomore distance runner the women's 5,000-meter run with a time of 19.38.77.

During the same day, SU sent several athletes to Towson to compete in the Goucher College Track and Field Classic. Freshman Rachael Holtzman came in third in the women's shot put (31 feet, nine and a half inches) and the women's hammer throw (102 feet, 10 inches). Freshman Jay Drenner also had a pair of third place finishes as he placed in the shot put (41 feet, one and a half inch) and the discus (124 feet, five inches).

The Sea Gull track team will compete in the two-day West Chester Invitational, starting Friday, April 10.

Daniel McFarland photo

to come away with a singles victo a final score of 7-2.

muster a win."

bury then hosted the University of a team," McFarland said. "A couranking implications as well. UMW left — one in the conference — started off slow and just could not front of Stevenson for second tory as Salisbury went 1-5 and lost

ple of breaks here and there and

Salisbury could have been able to Salisbury has three more games before tournament play and need to rebound quickly in order to get a one or two seed. Johns Hopkins, currently ranked No. 13 in the nation, will be next up for the Sea

Salisbury's lone conference game

Gulls as the Blue Jays come to remaining will be against at St.

Mary's College on Sunday. SU is only one game out first place in the CAC behind Mary Washington. Salisbury is half-a-game in place and will look to add to that lead over the next three games.

A playoff birth is all but final-more wins on their record would greatly improve their resume.

town this Saturday.

"They just looked out of sync as

SPORTS CALENDAR

Tuesday-4/7 3 p.m. Softball vs. Gallaudet 4 p.m. Women's Lacrosse @ Wesley 4:30 p.m. Softball vs. Gallaudet

Wednesday-4/8 3:30 p.m. Baseball vs.

Thursday-4/9 3 p.m. Softball @

Friday-4/10

4 p.m. Men's Lacrosse @ St Mary's (Md.)

Saturday-4/11 Track and Field @ West Chester Invitational

11 a.m. Women's Tennis vs. Mary Washing-

1 p.m. Baseball @ Stevenson p.m. Softball @ York (Pa.)

p.m. Women's Lacrosse vs. TCNJ

Sunday-4/12 Noon - Men's Tennis vs. Johns Hopkins

CAC Men's Lacrosse Tournament Quarterfinals 3:30 p.m. Men's Tennis @ St Mary's

Monday-4/13

3:30 p.m. Women's

Tennis @ St. Mary's (Md.)

and-neck playing excellent defense with great pitching and fielding. Although Mary Washington played well throughout the game, Salisbury run in the bottom of the third inning. After that game changing performance by Brenneman, Salisbury

Dronenburg led the Sea Gulls. hits and four runs batted in. Coming into the game, the Sea Gulls were riding a 17-game winning In game two of Saturday's double streak and Mary Washington was header, the Sea Gulls brought their looking to end that streak. In the momentum from the first game. The first game, both teams were neck-Sea Gulls scored two runs in the first inning to set the tone for the game, but in the top of the second inning Mary Washington hit a tough home run to bring the Sea Gull lead down changed the tide when junior catcher Lauren Brenneman hit a 3-run home controlled the rest of the game both offensively and defensively, finishing by adding three more runs and not giving up any runs on defense. The final of the first game of the double creasing the team's winning streak to Senior pitcher Stacy Davis (13-2) Kelsey Mills led the Sea Gulls. Mills led the Sea Gull defense, pitching a offensive side, senior outfielder strikeouts while giving up only five Meaghan O'Gara was the star after hits. Offensively, the Sea Gulls were hitting her sixth homer of the year. Sophomore third baseman Kristin sistant coaches Tom Stitcher and Tee led Brenneman's third inning home run. She ended the game with two Lord added three runs batted in. After the game, head coach Knight was very excited about the win, and said, "Excellent job defensively and offensively we kept putting the bat that process information well." This was a big game for the Sea Gulls, as their season is winding down and they are trying to finish to one. The Sea Gulls responded by the regular season strong. Coach Knight gave some humor, adding, scoring two runs in the third inning look good." allow another run to Mary Washing-

Defensively, sophomore pitcher gave up one run and one hit. On the on the ball, we have very smart ladies

They do all the work; they make me

The Sea Gulls next face Gallaudet University in a double header at home on Tuesday at 3 p.m. and 4:30 on Saturday.

Daniel McFarland photo First baseman Ali Ritter swings at a pitch against Mary Washington

Daniel McFarland photo

Logan Bilderback advances the ball up the field in Saturday's win against No. 18 Seahawks. The Sea Gulls defeated St. Mary's 20 - 8 on Senior Day.

Sea Gulls defeat conference foe, 20-8, on Senior Day

By Edward Baidoo Staff Writer

Last Saturday, the top-ranked Salisbury Sea Gulls defeated No. 18 St. Mary's 20-8 in a pivotal conference game on Senior Day. The victory improves the record of the Gulls to 12-1 with an unblemished conference record of 5-0. St. Mary's falls to 9-4 on the season and suffered their first conference loss, which drops their conference record to 4-1.

After the festivities to honor the seniors before the match, the Gulls got out to a quick start, scoring the first nine goals of the match. The scoring started with a goal by sophomore attacker Trish DiGirolomo at the 24:59 mark of the first half with an assist from Robyn Bishop. The assist would be only the beginning of a stellar day by Bishop. The senior midfielder scored five goals on the day with an assist. Despite two of the seniors, Jessica Chmielewski and Ashleigh Gender, not being able to play because of injuries, Bishop and the rest of the team wanted to make sure the team celebrated Senior Day with a win.

"We've had a lot of injuries and two of our fellow seniors were out, so it was great for us to rally and still put twenty in the back of the net," Bishop said.

Head coach Jim Nestor was very happy with the effort that the Gulls put in versus a very good St. Mary's team Saturday.

"It was a good performance today. I thought they played well. We got everybody in, intensity did not drop and we played well,"

Nestor said.

Maggie Macleay, Caitlin Nichols and Lauren Carrier, who each had two goals, led the Seahawks.

Macleay scored the first two goals for St. Mary's. Carrier's goals allowed her to maintain her streak of at least one goal in 55 consecutive games.

Coach Nestor was happy that the Gulls had a victory on Senior Day.

"It feels good, of course. It was Senior Day and we want to give our seniors that extra prize, even the ones that didn't play. St. Mary's is a great squad and we got a good win today," Nestor said.

The next game for the Sea Gulls will be on Tuesday at Wesley College for another important late-season conference match.

Pancake Breakfast Benefit

On March 27th, after suffering a seizure, Jesse Baier discovered that he has a large brain tumor and needs immediate & intensive medical attention.

In an effort to help Jesse with his rapidly rising medical costs, the Applebee's of Salisbury will be holding an all you-can -eat Pancake Breakfast on April 11th. All proceeds go directly to Jesse Baier and his family.

All-You-Can Eat

Unlimited pancakes, sausage, coffee & orange juice

+ 50/50 Raffle + Bakesale + Silent Auction

Salisbury Applebee's Saturday, April 11th 7:00 am to 10:00 am

Please come out to help us support Jesse!

READ

Thursdays are COLLEGE NIGHT!

Free Pool
with College ID!
DJ RUSTY!

Come early, bring your laptop... pretend to do the WIFI homework studying thing... whatever.

APRIL

- 2 DJ Rusty Griswold
- · 3 Nikki Watson
- 4 Crash Nelson
- . 9 DJ Rusty Griswold
- 10 No Stringz Attached
- . 11 Evil Cecil
- 16 DJ Rusty Griswold
- . 17 Voyager
- 18 KASHMIR-The Best Led Zeppelin Tribute Band EVER!

No Cover On College Night!

ON THE PLASMAS!

Come grab a beer and a bite and study in the quiet party room with our free WiFi. Hey, does the LIBRARY have burgers and suds.

Want to Orink and "Orive?"
TRY YOUR HAND AT VIDEO NASCAR RACING!
Wreck your Friends! Win the Race!

2009 Golden Tee Colf 2009 Silver Strike Bowling 22 Brunswick Pool Tebles - 7 and 9' Glow Pool Friday and Saturday Nights Live Bands Every Friday and Saturday No Need to Risk Drinking and Driving - We Are Within Walking Distance of Salisbury University!

1009 S. Salisbury Blvd. 410-742-7665

> www.breaktimegrill.com www.myspace.com/ breaktimesportsgrill

You Must Be 21 or Over to Enter - Bring a VALID ID!

State Dr. License, State ID Gord, Passports and Digital Military ID's are the GNLY VALID ID accepted.

Cedar Crossing 4BR/4BA

Williams Landing 550 Riverside Drive Salisbury, MD 21801

Brand New Cedar Commons 3BR/3BA

Call Angie or Michelle ROOMMATES NEEDED!

ERIC DAVIS
Property Management

www.ericdavisonline.com

STUDENT HOUSING SPECIALIST

Kim Martini Ollice/Property Manager

715-A Lintern Shore Di Salishing MD 21801

souline.com 1 ac 110-518-231.